Alvarez Grant Planning Worksheet

1. Identify how the opportunity is academic

How does the opportunity build on what you have learned/will learn in classes?

2. Think about your Research Question(s)

What are you trying to learn from the opportunity? This will be the basis of your research question. Consider using the 5 Ws + H (Who, What, When, Where, Why, and How). Example research questions:

What are the advances being made in engineering with regard to sustainability?

How is MIT emerging as a leader in sustainable engineering practices?

Alvarez Grant Planning Worksheet

1. Identify how the opportunity is professional

What is your reason?

How does the opportunity relate to your intended career path?

Why is this specific opportunity important; why does it matter?

I want to be a financial consultant. This internship at Bain, a top consulting firm, will let me explore different types of consulting. This is important so that I know what areas interest me. I will have access to consultants who can guide me based on decades of experience. I will network with other interns and Bain employees. This could help me after graduation when searching for jobs.

Draft your own reasons below

2. Think about your Action Plan(s)

What steps are you going to take to maximize the benefits of participating in this activity?

I will conduct informational interviews with consultants at various levels. I will update my LinkedIn account and add my new colleagues.
